The New Zealand Society of Actuaries is holding its biennial conference for 2010 in the heart of the beautiful Marlborough region from Sunday the 21st of November through to Wednesday the 24th of November.

The conference will focus on the role that Actuaries can play in the sound navigation of companies through the identification, understanding and management of financial risk.

This is a great opportunity for you to join your actuarial colleagues to network and keep informed of the latest developments in our industry. We are assembling an exciting group of plenary speakers, look out for further details in the coming months.

There will be a call for papers later this month and those interested in presenting a paper can contact John Feyter: john.feyter@southerncross.co.nz. To be added to the Conference mailing list please contact Rachel Cook at Conference Innovators: Rachel@conference.co.nz

Whether you love wine or wildlife, sea-kayaking or cruising, native bush walks or formal garden rambles, under clear sunny skies Marlborough is a great place to unwind.

We look forward to seeing you in November and encourage you to consider bringing your families to take advantage of all this region has to offer.
